Possibility Of U.S. 60 By-pass Is Discounted

HEREFORD — While designation of U.S. 60 as an interstate highway would have favorable impact on Canyon, local officials learned Tuesday night that actual construction of an interstate between Amarillo and Las Cruces, N.M., could completely by-pass the city.

Meeting here with officials from Las Cruces, Amarillo, Hereford, Roswell, Clovis, Farwell and Dawn, four Canyon representatives learned that their efforts to have Canyon placed specifically and by name in the national highway act passed in August were to no avail.

The act, which provides funding for three years at the federal level, authorizes a study be made of the feasibility of constructing an interstate between Amarillo and Las Cruces and specifies the route that highway would take.

In those specifications, the towns listed through which the highway would run (or around which the highway would go) included Hereford, Clovis, Roswell and Las Cruces. But, no mention is made of Canyon.

Assuming that if Canyon is not included in the bill the study might be pointed at a more direct route from Amarillo to Hereford, local officials questioned Roswell businessman John McLellan, ramrod of the redesignation project for 10 years, on the effect this might have on the city.

Officials pointed out that the route to be taken might not follow the current route of U.S. 60 which comes south from Amarillo and curves westward at Canyon, heading through the north end of the city. A more direct route, they contended, might be found between Amarillo and Hereford.

David West, local bank executive, told The News he had written last summer to Texas Senators John Tower and Lloyd Bentsen and Congressman Bob Price urging that Canyon be included in the bill specifically.

"They all said they'd try to get Canyon in there," he said, but apparently their efforts were to no avail.

McLellan, however, was confident that the omission of Canyon from the list of route cities would have no bearing on the route proposal.

He said he is certain the route of the interstate will follow the current U.S. 60 route in Texas and the U.S. 70 route in New Mexico.

And, he noted it would be only logical that a new interstate tie in with Interstate 27 in the Canyon area.

"It couldn't hardly hit Amarillo without hitting I-27," he said. "The bill was written close to the exiting route. There's no way they'll ever miss 27 over there (in Canyon)."

McLellan called the Tuesday night meeting in Hereford to update area officials on the status of the highway bill and its sections concerning the redesignation of U.S. 60-70.

He urged that local representatives promote a letter-writing campaign to Texas' senators and Congressmen urging that a study funded under the three-year act be completed by summer to facilitate the redesignation of U.S. 60-70.

McLellan said the act calls for 10 studies to be made in different areas of the country to determine priorities for highway construction.

While the studies are authorized, he said, the Department of Transportation could wait until Jan. 1, 1975 before revealing the results of the studies.

He said the study should be completed by summer so the redesignation can be accomplished by the Secretary of Transportation.

McLellan pointed to the energy crisis as a spur for interest in mass transportation and said speed is essential on the highway study to head off probable

Rain Lack, Greenbug Infestation Spell Trouble For Area Farmers

Lack of rain, greenbugs and fluctuating cattle prices are working together to give Randall County wheat producers a headache they'd rather live without this winter.

Unseasonably warm temperatures coupled with virtually no moisture since the wheat was planted late in the summer have dried the earth and stalled significant root growth for the young wheat crop.

Official weather figures indicate only 2.68 inches of rain fell in Canyon during September and October. No rain has fallen during November.

Normal rainfall during the two months totals 3.65 inches. In 1972, the moisture totalled 2.37 inches during September and October and in 1971, the total was more than 7 inches.

While the weather was beautiful for putting the finishing touches on a mammoth grain sorghum crop, it was somewhat less than that for the wheat farmer.

"We've had quite a struggle trying to maintain our wheat," said County Agent John Brazzil. "The wheat is weak and poorly rooted and most is not grazeable. We need a good rain."

Brazzil said even though the advent of cold weather is not far away good rains between now and January could make for a good wheat crop next summer.

Growth in the wheat plant is not slowed significantly, he said, until the deep cold weather of January and February.

"We could still get some grazing if we could get some rain," he said.

The poor condition of most of the county's wheat crop has a causative relationship on the damage

Voters' Apathy Is Cited As Danger To Country

One of the great crises to be faced in Texas and in this country is apathy, State Sen. Max Sherman told members of a business fraternity at West Texas State University Monday.

Sherman, citing the poor voter turnout in the Nov. 6 special constitutional amendment election, said voter participation is the substance of American democracy.

"Until we come back to the attitude that for each of us on election day the most important thing to do is go vote, we won't correct the problems of scandal in government," he said. "This is what makes the system work."

Sherman, in his first of two scheduled appearances in Canyon this week, said the American system is based on the grassroots assumption that people will vote.

He noted only about 15 per cent of the registered voters cast ballots in the special election two weeks ago, an election which saw defeat of at least one bill backed by most senators and representatives and a large number of special interest groups.

That amendment, calling for a pay hike for legislators and initiation of annual sessions for the legislature, was cited by Sherman as an important step toward better government.

The most important section of the amendment, he said, was not the section raising the legislators' salaries to $15,000 per year, but that section which called for the legislature to meet annually.

Pointing to the massive workload legislators face each session as they try to sift through thousands of proposed bills, Sherman said simply a business operated as the state operates would not long be in business.

Budgets, for example, now being prepared by the Legislative Budget Board are for 1975.

Sherman said realistically speaking governmental agencies in 1973 have little idea what their revenues or their expenditures might total two years from now, yet they are asked to live with a budget prepared today.

"A business couldn't run that way," Sherman said, noting that due to the workload most legislators can become familiar with only a small number of bills.

Annual sessions would lessen the problem somewhat, but it would also have major impact on another problem pointed to by Sherman — the problem of bad legislation.

The senator said because of the nature of the legislative animal, the fact that legislators cannot familiarize themselves with all

Expect Capacity Crowd To Hear Dolph Briscoe

A near-capacity crowd is expected to hear Governor Dolph Briscoe and other top speakers at the annual confab of the Panhandle Economic Program at West Texas State University's Activities Center in Canyon Friday.

The governor's address is set for 1:30 p.m.

The program begins with registration at 8:30 a.m., and a welcome at 9:30 by WTSU's president, Dr. Lloyd I. Watkins, according to W.W. Grisham, district agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and coordinator of PEP.

Sen. Max Sherman of senatorial district 31 is the first speaker on tap, addressing the crowd on activities of the recently created Regional Water Council.

Task force meetings, divided into three sections on crops, livestock and family living, begin at 10:30.

Dr. John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will introduce guests for the afternoon session, along with pertinent remarks about PEP's activities and the Extension Service's role in Texas agriculture, Grisham said.

A business meeting will cap the day's activities. PEP members will hear committeemen outline task force goals, and elect new officers for next year.

The annual meeting is the fourth for the newly created organization, said Grisham. Composed of voluntary mem-

$300,000 Annex Seen By County For Amarillo

A new south Amarillo courthouse annex which would cost in excess of $300,000, measure about 7000 square feet and house branch offices for the tax collector, the county clerk, the sheriff, justice of the peace and a state department emerged as Randall County commissioners early ideas Monday as they interviewed potential architects.

Commissioners met for 15 minutes each with 11 Amarillo architectural firm representatives before deciding to ask four to return in two weeks for more in-depth interviews.

Representatives of Wilson & Doche, Vaughan & McMorries, Mitchell & Wossum and Ensign & Tunnell will return Nov. 26 to meet with commissioners for 30-minute sessions on what their firms can offer.

During the course of the interviews, commissioners revealed they are contemplating a building on newly-acquired South Amarillo property which would cost between $300,000 and $400,000 to build.

They also revealed they are desirous of a building with between 6000 and 7500 square feet, well over the about 5000 square feet in the current south Amarillo annex.

County Judge Woody Pond told the architects the building will house the same functions the current annex houses — a branch for the tax assessor-collector, a branch for the sheriff's deputies, a branch for the juvenile probation office, a branch for the county clerk's office, a new office and courtroom for Justice of the Peace W.W. Hancock, and a facility for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Pond said the commissioners are not planning a bond issue to construct the building, but will use revenue sharing money along with other financing.

One architect told commissioners they could expect construction to run at least $30 per square foot.

Firms represented during the three hour meeting included architects who have designed such buildings as the activities center at West Texas State University, High Plains Baptist Hospital, several Amarillo banks and numerous other well-known facilities in the Panhandle.

Commissioners indicated they hope the building can be ready for occupancy in 1974.

In other business Monday, commissioners gave scant attention to plans for conserving

Arts, Crafts Mart Will Open On Sat.

Arts, crafts and those odds and ends which constitute a flea market will go on sale from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday as the Canyon Rotary Club sponsors its second annual Arts & Crafts Show and Flea Market.

Exhibitors will fill the all-purpose room at Rex Reeves Elementary School here for the show and sale, manning booths rented from the Rotarians.

Project Chairman Conway Kuykendall said booths are still available for residents who wish to sell arts, crafts or other items during the day. Booth rental is $6 and the exhibitor must provide his own table.

"We have quite a variety of exhibits this year," Kuykendall said, "everything from old-fashioned home-made bread to paintings, from Christ-

No Charges In Knifing Filed

No charges had been filed at noon Wednesday in connection with the knifing Tuesday night of a Canyon woman and a subsequent pickup truck crash in Sunday Canyon involving an alleged principal in the stabbing.

Charges of assault with intent to murder were expected to be filed against a Canyon man in connection with the incident, which involved a series of events which began about 8:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Canyon Police, Randall County deputies and witnesses built the following description of

Food, Fiber Fair Underway Here

Randall County's Food and Fiber Fair, featuring exhibits which tell the story of a booming $70 million per year agricultural industry, continues today and Friday at two Canyon schools.

The public is invited to attend the fair at either Rex Reeves or Canyon Junior High schools today and Friday, according to County Agent John Brazzil.

The fair began Wednesday with exhibitors telling the county agricultural story through displays at Gene Howe School in north Randall County.

It continues today at Rex Reeves and Friday at the Junior High School. The displays are open from 9 a.m. to about 3:30 p.m.

"Even though it's held at the schools because of the facilities and because we want to impress on our youngsters the importance of food and fiber, we also want to invite adults and we feel the program will be of interest to them," Brazzil said. "This is our industry and it adds about $70 million to the economy of Randall County just this year.

The exhibits are designed to tell young and old the facts about just about every product which originates in the county — from beef production to the production of sugar beets.

Added incentive for adults to attend the fair is the giving away of a ham and a pork loin by the county's pork producers.

"This is the week before Thanksgiving, a time we've traditionally set aside to appreciate our food and fiber," Brazzil said. "We had a good year in Randall County specially when you look at all the shortages.

"This is one industry that's increased and is having significant impact on the world. Many in the world have to depend on us for this commodity. We may be begging for oil but we're not begging for food."

Brazzil said exhibits will show viewers the story of grain sorghum production, beef produc-done the plants this year by a widespread and massive greenbug infestation.

Brazzil said the bugs are causing extensive damage and many farmers are using control spraying and other measures in an actual fight to save their crops.

"Greenbugs were present by Sept. 1 and they've been spraying since that time and it will continue just to ensure a stand of wheat," he said. "This is most unusual since we don't usually have a large build-up in the fall."

But, because of warm weather this fall, the greenbugs have flourished in unanticipated proportions.

"They are doing significant damage to the wheat and many are having to apply control just to keep the plant surviving," Brazzil said.

He said it is likely the bugs will remain and thrive until cold weather arrives and stays.

While Brazzil said the great numbers of greenbugs are not unusual, the fact that the wheat is weakened by lack of rain has compounded the problem.

"If we'd had good moisture we probably wouldn't face such a situation," he said.

Both these factors, plus uncertainty in the cattle market, have dealt a blow to a usually large number of cattle brought into the county to pasture on winter wheat.

"We don't have nearly as many cattle in the county as we had last year," he said. Last fall, between 50,000 and 60,000 head of cattle grazed on wheat in the county.

Because there is no significant amount of wheat pasture, cattle are not being purchased.

Also because there is no significant amount of pasture, local farmers are even more wary than they normally would be of the fluctuating cattle market.

aspects of each measure presented, it is likely that a bad bill will be passed occasionally.

"If we pass bad legislation it can't be corrected until 1975 or unless the governor calls a special session and he's indicated he won't do that," Sherman said.

Turning to the revision of the Texas Constitution, Sherman said Price Daniel Jr., speaker of the House during the last session, has said he believes he has the votes to become chairman of the convention which convenes in Austin on Jan. 7 to consider a new constitution for the state.

If Daniel is chairman, Sherman said, he favors using the proposal from the Constitutional Revision Commission as a basis for a new constitution. And, Daniel would favor writing the new constitution in a 90-day session.

Answering criticism that the legislature should not sit as a constitutional convention, Sherman said "if we can set aside our role as legislators or members of the House and Senate and act as responsible delegates, we may come up with a great document to chart our course for the next 100 years."

the chain of events, which apparently was the result of a domestic quarrel.

Deputies said the man, who lived at Six Gun City near Palo Duro Canyon, was helping his wife and one of her woman friends move into a Canyon mobile home park earlier in the day Tuesday.

When coming into Canyon, the wife was driving the pickup when she was told by her husband to stop the truck and let him drive. Previously, he had tied the hands of the friend and made threatening remarks.

The woman jumped from the pickup at the intersection of 4th Avenue and Thompson Lane and ran into the open garage of Conway Kuykendall who lives at 401 Thompson Lane.

Kuykendall said the woman told him to call the sheriff because her friend's "life was in danger."

Police said the friend was subsequently stabbed and put out of the pickup in the 400 block of Thompson Lane.

She was found roaming in the street by Ray Bible and was taken into a home at 405 Thompson Lane. She was taken to Northwest Texas Hospital, suffering a stab wound in the mid-section.

Later, officers looking for the pickup truck, found it overturned just off the Palo Duro Highway at its intersection with the road which leads into Sunday Canyon.

Deputy Jim Merrick said the pickup left the Palo Duro Highway and literally flew over the narrow end of the canyon onto the south bank.

The canyon is about 30 feet wide at that point.

The driver was removed from the pickup and taken to Northwest Texas Hospital where he remained in serious condition Wednesday.

Until formal charges are filed, names of those involved will not be published.

tion, pork production, wheat production, water and soil conservation and many other such stories about products from county fields.

Those participating in the displays include representatives from the Palo Duro Oil and Water Conservation District, Randall County Farmers Union, Randall County Farm Bureau, the Cow-Belles, pork producers, cattle producers, dairy cattle producers, and several retail Canyon merchants along with farm wives.

County Judge Woody Pond is chairman of the food and fiber fair activities.

Buffs To Face Southern Miss.

West Texas State University's Buffaloes, with hopes of breaking a four-game losing streak, host rugged Southern Mississippi at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in Frank Kimbrough Memorial Stadium in a non-conference football clash.

The Golden Eagles of Southern Mississippi will bring a 4-4-1 record with them into the game, which is "Junior College Night" at West Texas State.

All area junior college students will be admitted to the game free of charge. A dance for the junior college students will follow the game at the Activities Center and is also free.

Southern Mississippi has lost to East Carolina, Florida, Ole Miss and undefeated Richmond. It has wins over Tennessee-Chattanooga, Texas-Arlington, Weber State and last week stopped Memphis State, 13-10. The Golden Eagles tied Mississippi State, 10-10.

The Golden Eagles feature a balanced attack between running and passing. Sophomore quarterback Jeff Bower has completed 57.9 per cent of his passes, hitting on 98 of 169 for 1,248 yards and seven touchdowns.

Doyle Orange, 201-pound senior, leads the team in rushing average among the regulars, picking up 4.4 yards each time he carries the ball. He has 341 yards. Fullback Wilson Plunkett has 382 yards, but has carried the ball more times and is averaging 3.9 yards per carry.

Six Golden Eagle receivers have caught 12 or more passes. Flanker Harvey McGee leads with 24 receptions for 304 yards. Split end Eddie Tate and tight end John Sawyer have 18 catches each.

West Texas State will enter the game with at least two new starters from a week ago.

Split end Tracy Dickson injured a shoulder against Tampa and will probably be replaced by sophomore Mike Lozano. The 152-pound Lozano has started several games as a wingback and has played as an alternate with Dickson at split end.

Linebacker Mike Podzemny injured a knee last week and will be out of action for at least this week. He could be replaced by any of several players. Steve Rogers, who came off the injured list two weeks ago, could start there, as could David Herber or Ben Colbert.

Freshman tailback Don Jackson, who rushed for 56 yards last week, should log considerable time at that position Saturday night. He was injured much of the freshman season.

bers interested in the economic and social growth of the Panhandle, PEP strives to measure the impact and growth of the Panhandle economy, and to mark areas of crucial needs and advancement.

Task force meetings scheduled for Friday morning are designed to focus on those needs, Grisham declared. Experts in crops, livestock and family living will be participating. Among them will be Dr. Roland Smith, grain marketing specialist, R.J. Hodges, Jr., agronomist, Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist, Dr. Barbara Sears, Health Education specialist, Lynn Bourland, home management specialist, Sally Springer, foods and nutrition specialist, and Becky Culp, area clothing specialist, all of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Carl Jahnel of Canadian, F.V. Wallace, former mayor of Amarillo, and Jack Carrothers, president of Friona Industries, Inc., also will address task force sessions.

According to R.C. (Dick) Cline, PEP chairman, the meeting is open to the public.

A noon buffet will be served for participants. Cost will be $3.50, upon reservation. Tickets are available through County Agent John Brazzil.

"We are grateful that the governor has accepted our invitation," said Grisham. "His remarks about Texas agriculture will certainly be appropriate at this time when PEP members will have the opportunity to set long-range goals and objectives.

"We are excited," he added, "about the outlook of Panhandle agriculture and about the increasing importance every citizen has in its expansion."

The event, Grisham added, is expected to attract people from all walks of life.

"This concerted effort on the part of PEP's leaders," he said, "is designed to provide an opportunity for everyone to share ideas and concerns about the economic and social growth of the region."

Grisham said that anyone interested in pre-registering for the event or obtaining further details may contact Brazzil.

contention over spending money allocated for highways in the act for mass transit systems.

He said he has been assured that the interstate project is the number one priority for the department of transportation, but nevertheless said pushing the project was necessary.

"We know we're in a better position than any other interstate," he said. "But, I don't think there's any question mass transit will get a lot of money. They've been fighting hard enough."

He said hopefully the interstate between Amarillo and Las Cruces will be the first extension authorized under the program. He said the transportation secretary has the power under the bill to authorize himself such extensions without Congressional approval.

energy and fuel in county operations.

The matter was brought up by Pond following the commissioners' interviews with the architects and the topic elicited only two responses.

"You're not talking about a 4-day, 10-hour-a-day week, are you?" asked Commissioner John Fulgenzi.

"Shouldn't we wait for a decision on daylight savings time?" asked Commissioner Bill Butler.

There the matter ended.

Commissioners approved a site application by the City of Canyon for the State Department of Health for the city's sanitary landfill dumpground operation north of the city.

They also approved a revised plat for a portion of the Timbercreek Canyon development.

Commissioners acknowledge receipt of a letter from Canyon Mayor Manly Bryan informing the court the city has accepted their proposal for an agreement on a trade of services and payment of a $18,000 fee per year to the city.

Three door prizes will be awarded at 10 a.m., 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. for shoppers at the flea market. Kuykendall said to win the drawing, a person must be present.

The Rotary Club will provide refreshments at a snack bar during the day, including pie, soft drinks and sandwiches.

Rotary Club members will also be available to aid exhibitors in setting up their exhibits.

Money raised through the sale of booths and refreshments will go to various Rotary Club projects, Kuykendall said.

Travels With Everyman

By ANDY HULL

Look around the waiting room and find a chair close enough to someone to engage in conversation on that occasion's happening.

Having found a seat, wait until the number of your flight is called and then walk through the off white maze with its pre-dawn lighting. Follow the crowd as they file slowly and somewhat silently down the telescoping corridors. The passageway has changed from cavernous to normal hall size but none of the crowd seems to pay much attention to anything but slowly moving.

Finally the line breaks up and we take seats in what seems to be a narrow, well furnished dimly-lighted bomb shelter a la London circa 1942.

A glance at the ticket indicates seat 9C and it is there. Sitting, a pleasant conversation with a woman from Akron on her way to France for a visit is intertwined with that of a German student two weeks late for school who toured the perimeter of the U.S. and Mexico in three months.

The French woman runs out of steam and dozes. The German is about to Atlanta when there is a bump. Shortly the crowd forms again.

Out the passage and a door at the head of a set of stairs and confronting the early morning cold and wet of Rekavik airport in Iceland.

Imagine just talking for awhile and then being 2500 miles from where you were such a short time ago. The same route probably took the Vikings four or five months, and they were only slightly less uncomfortable. For an hour or so (it being hard to know how time goes at that hour and the clocks in Rekavik being all different, in order to trap innocent travelers for slave labor) there is time to look around the duty free facilities of the aerodrome.

These two shops are normal size but take up a third or so of the airport terminal, which is reminescent of the bus stations of certain mid size Texas towns. Then the call to seats and the reentry of what is now discernable as a large modern aircraft is effected. The crowd, once again passengers, sleep quietly as England and Northern Europe slide beneath as if drawn away on some huge conveyors.

After a bit more dozing and a bit more sliding, the plane touches earth and moves to a stop at the Luxembourg air terminal. More crowd, a bit of customs (official) and then some culinary customs (unofficial, except in Germany) and you are on your way or for me "on my way."

In Darmstadt I have a friend to stay with while I recoup from time zones and such. But I still have to cover 150 miles before I sleep. I manage to do real well on my way there and arrive about 8:30 p.m. However, it seems he has moved to Heidelberg.

Driving on the autobahn (freeway) is like driving to Dallas from Austin at night anyway. Standing and sleeping by it are just like doing that beside American freeways in Springfield, Ill. and Missouri. One of the determinors of my future course was given to me in Heidelberg.

The course will be through Greece. The determinors were the brothers George who greeted us warmly (in German because my friend gets around in it well); but no less warm for the lack of mutual language. After a few traditional toasts with the host we had a magnificent meal. The hospitality and food are overt and welcome respite from the wet cold Germany which is this time of year. This cold and the wet sleeping bag blues are cajoling me to go south to Spain or Africa.

As a final note here I want to say that even in Europe are Mercedes hubcaps and ballpoint pen in evidence.

VD Program Scheduled For High School Students

Venereal disease — the facts, the symptoms, the consequences and the cure — will be the subject of a film presentation and seminar for area high school students to be presented at 7:30 p.m. today at the West Texas State University Episcopal Center.

"Venereal Disease: A Present Danger," is the title of the documentary film and program, which is sponsored by the Panhandle Planned Parenthood Association.

Featured speaker will be the Rev. James Bethell of the Episcopal campus ministry.

After the film presentation, the audience will break up into seminar groups for further discussion.

Group leaders will include members of the Advisory Board for the Canyon office of Planned Parenthood.

The program is designed to present high school students with factual information about venereal disease, according to Susan Barnett, Canyon outreach worker for Planned Parenthood.

"We're not trying to preach or moralize on the subject," Mrs. Barnett said.

"Venereal disease is at an epidemic level in the United States today, and Texas has one of the highest incidents of disease in the nation," she said.

"Although we don't have precise statistical information on how bad the situation is in this area, we can only assume that the Panhandle contributes its share to the total," Mrs. Barnett said.

Students will be informed of services available at the Canyon and Amarillo branches of Planned Parenthood, as well as at the Bi-City County Health Department, located at 417 S. Austin in Amarillo.

Those seeking more information about the program may contact Mrs. Barnett at the Planned Parenthood offices, located in Room 104 of the Randall County Courthouse.

Mildred Is Thirty-Nine Again

By MILDRED TURNER

THE PHIL BOOTHES attended the Toastmaster's contest (I understand this is a club) dinner at the Tascosa Country Club. Carl Johnson won first place in the regional and got to go on to Lubbock. Elnora said she did not know these could be so interesting, informative as well as humorous and entertaining. They thoroughly enjoyed the evening.

THE DAN BAILEYS gave me a steak dinner deluxe climaxed with gifts (from all the girls and their husbands) on my birthday. (I was 39 again). Belva baked the cake. After you get my age there is no way to get all those candles on top of one cake, so we just forgot it. The cake was delicious but I heard some of the guys betting it was out of a box! I bet it was not! Although Belva hasn't been married too long, she's been baking cakes for a long time. The Webbs, Winters, and Turners were there but the Bowies didn't make it. Sara called later in the evening and said they would try to make it home for Thanksgiving. It was a lovely evening and we all enjoyed being together.

ON MY DAY I did just what I wanted. I read some, played some records. About mid-morning I drove slowly through the canyon just to enjoy the beauty (and to see what you were doing). Some of the trees already have the bareness of winter while others have on their most elegant autumn colors. The wild plums are so red, chinaberries are amber and the cottonwoods are a lovely yellow and gold. Being gone so much I've missed a lot of this. After the ride I just sat down at the picnic table dreaming awhile, watching the critters and birds. Coming in and finding Garland showering, I suddenly had an urge to wash a load of towels. These country showers work rather oddly. If someone is showering and you turn on the washing machine, or dish washer (using just hot water) you suddenly get a cold shower! It doesn't happen unless you use an awful lot of hot water. This may sound cruel but I could have washed a cold load! I didn't dare come back in the house for some time. In fact, I ignored the house all day. I even resisted washing windows! We later went by Myers, ate his favorite chicken and visited his mother. Had a lovely day just goofing and the birthday party in the evening.

THE 8TH GRADE White Team had a finished record of 7 wins and 2 losses which secured them 3rd place in district. Greg Moore plays offensive halfback and defensive safety. David Tate plays offensive and defensive end.

THE 8TH GRADE Purple Team had a finished record of 5 to 4 which secured them 11th in district. Robert Dustman plays offensive fullback and defensive linebacker. Stan Baucum plays offensive guard and defensive tackle. David Tucker was an injured player who was manager.

THE "WHITES" WON their last game 53-14 against the Pampa "Reds."

THE "PURPLES" WON their last game 36-8 against Dumas. Congratulations to both teams for a successful football season!

YOU KNOW STAN Hooker is a rather nice chap. He has come down on various occasions and helped me move heavy lumber or something around here. Recently Janet made a boo-boo on one of her home projects. She cut one leg of her pants the wrong way on the nap so she needed more material. We had the car and she had no way to go. She asked Colette Smith to get the material for her and Colette asked Stan to, so Stan ended up shopping for enough material for one leg of slacks! Thank you, Stan. He and Colette are a cute couple, were by the house recently.

HOPE THE MOORES are feeling better this week. Neil and the boys had sore throats last week.

SOME HAVE ASKED how Peggy Oliver is doing lately. Peggy is just doing swell. We were over the other evening looking at pictures, watching TV, having popcorn and cokes. Floyd has been able to put in long hours in the field and Peggy is looking real perky these days.

KEEP YOUR FACE toward the sunshine and the shadows will fall behind you.

Zeta Delta Holds Regular Meeting

Zeta Delta held a regular monthly meeting Monday in Amarillo with Donna Wilson, Canyon, president, presiding.

Honored guests for the meeting were twelve retired school teachers and they received a corsage made by Pat Hall.

Patsy Duncan, Canyon, was the speaker and her talk involved inspiration for the members to enrich their lives and the lives of others by growing as individuals. This growth would lead to their chapter being better and able to contribute more to their school and community.

The next meeting will be a Christmas Vespers at the Joseph A. Hill Memorial Chapel on the West Texas State University campus. After the service, there will be a social hour in the home of Patsy Duncan.

Priscilla Club Had Meeting

Mrs. Tom Knighton was hostess to the regular monthly meeting of the Priscilla Club last Wednesday in her home.

She served her guests coffee and a dessert course. Those present were Mesdames Dudley Moore, Sr., D.M. Foster, Lonnie Byers, Tom Brasher, Florine Moore, Bill Crow, Gladys Marshall, Ed Weeks, Floyd Tomlinson, Kelly McGehee, Paul Summers and A.K. Goodman.

Henson Named As Trustee

Virgil Henson, financial vice president of West Texas State University, was re-elected recently as a trustee of the board of The Baptist Standard, weekly news magazine.

Henson was renamed to the board during the annual meeting of the two million member Baptist General Convention in Corpus Christi.

Man-that's Corn!

Mr. Farmer, before you book your Corn Seed this year, look at your neighbors' high yielding results after planting P-A-G SX-520, SX-98 or 344. He'll have high praise for the top yields, standability and threshability plus many of the other high quality characteristics found in P-A-G Hybrid Corns.

In 1973 tests conducted on the John Bridges farm 2 miles north of Earth, SX-520 yielded NUMBER ONE out of 16 hybrids entered with 10,449 lbs. (186.6 bu) per acre.

Bobby G. Free of Muleshoe plans to plant 100% of his 1,400 acres to SX-520 and SX-98 because of their extra yield, threshability and the way they stood.

On the Charlie Myers farm east of Friona, P-A-G's SX-98 yielded 11,215 lbs. (200.3 bu) per acre.

In a 1972 Briscoe County Agent Test, P-A-G 344 yielded 9,309 lbs. (166.2 bu) per acre making it the number one corn tested on the Ray Teeple farm near Silverton.

344

A 3-way cross highly recommended for farmers who want a Hybrid Corn just a little earlier in maturity. 344 features medium tall plants of dark green color, with large, girthy ears. This is a proven, consistent yielder.

SX-520

This P-A-G single cross is a fast germinating, vigorous, high yielding "new breed". It responds quickly to a heavy, balanced fertilizer program and it's adaptable to a wide range of conditions. P-A-G researchers have been impressed with its standability under the stress of high plant populations. SX-520 is an excellent combine corn.

SX-98

If you insist on "the very best", insist on this real producer. This distinctive dark green plant features relatively upright leaves for maximum light utilization. SX-98 has a bred-in "digestive system" that gives it the capacity to make full use of large amounts of fertilizer.

Find out, first hand, about the advantages of planting P-A-G Hybrid Corns and then contact your local Dealer. Order early and be sure you ask about the attractive booking bonuses available to all P-A-G customers.

Canyon Artist D. Crow Featured In One-Man Showing

A showing of the recent works of artist D. Crow of Canyon, known throughout the Southwest for her paintings of the Texas bluebonnet, opens today at the Albuquerque, N.M. National Bank.

"The Southwest" collection, as the exhibit is titled, will include the original painting, "Patch of Blue," which appears on telephone directories in Canyon, South Austin, Texas and five counties of the Hill Country.

The bank will have a rotating permanent display of D. Crow oils in its collection.

The artist gained wide acclaim in 1970 when she was singularly honored by the Texas Legislature for painting the state flower for 25 years. She had, they noted, "contributed much to the knowledge and appreciation of the bluebonnet throughout the Southwest, and through her ability to paint she has greatly enhanced the enjoyment of the beautiful state flower by thousands of Texas citizens."

The Texas House of Representatives congratulated her upon her many accomplishments as an artist and commended her for her "great contributions to the State of Texas."

One of her oils, "Bluebonnet Time in Texas," was hung for permanent display in the Governor's private office during Preston Smith's term. The same year Mrs. Crow was among four artists in the state to be nominated as Texas' State Artist for the year ending April, 1971.

During the 63rd legislative session, numerous D. Crow oils have hung in the offices of State Senator Jack Hightower of Vernon, State Representatives Bryan Poff of Canyon and Phil Cates of Pampa.

Additional exhibits in Austin, Pampa and other points in the Southwest are currently in the planning stages.

Perhaps the most famous owner of a D. Crow oil is Mrs. Luci Nugent, daughter of the late Lyndon Baines Johnson.

The artist's constantly growing list of patrons includes names of university regents, state officials, state board members, bankers, ranchers, doctors, businessmen, and art lovers throughout America.

Mrs. Crow will soon be featured in a new book entitled "Artists Who Have Portrayed the American West," written by Phil Kovenick of Los Angeles.

Going somewhere? Or been? The Canyon News wants to know about it — and so do its readers.

Gene Howe News

TSTA Booth Dealt With Self Image

By TROYCE MULHERIN

GREETINGS:

LOWER SPEED LIMITS, yes. Turn down the thermostat a notch or two, O.K. But, no enthusiasm or support with regards to messing around with the clock and thereby introducing the ol' bod to another bout with different sleeping and eating schedules!

WHILST MOMS AND youngsters were engaging in that age-old, well-known pastime of, "clean up that room, those animals, etc., etc.," Gene Howe was being well represented at the Texas State Teachers Association meeting and accompanying displays being held last Friday at Bowie Junior High in Amarillo. The basis for Gene Howe's participation was self-concept, and the importance of instilling and emphasizing a healthy awareness of such concept in our youngsters was the objective of the display.

A theme of "I'm the only ME in the Whole World," invited those in attendance to stop by and visit our display, which they did in abundant numbers.

THE YOUNGSTERS AT Gene Howe, as well as faculty members, contributed to the presentation. Most of the contributions by the youngsters consisted of "art work." Youngsters sent along some blank doll faces, with instructions for the user to look into a mirror and draw what is seen onto the blank faces. Over ninety "My Own Coat of Arms," were along and sifted through with great interest. The shield was divided into four areas: On one area the youngster drew a picture of his/her greatest achievement. One area depicted what the youngster felt was his/her greatest failure. The question of, "My friends make me feel good when they - - - - -," served as the basis for a third portion of the shield. And, the fourth answered, pictorially speaking, the question of what they would do, if assurance of success was guaranteed. Youngsters also provided collages made from magazine cutouts, which portrayed their own concept of, "Things I am and what I like." Written responses to the viewing of the film, "I Am," were also read with interest.

FACULTY MEMBERS PROVIDED booklets for distribution. Same courtesy of the Character Education Curriculum, and also shared some of the regular materials the teachers use in their classrooms. Lots of photos of the youngsters at Gene Howe and newspaper clippings showing and telling of their involvement in reading activities, tutoring fellow classmates, working in the library, engaging in musical programs, etc., were used to share our faculty's "ways and means" of helping our young ones to feel important and worthwhile. The theory guiding all this work and the time-consuming preparations is a simple one — to help a child have a better picture of himself — to know that he is worthy and matters — to know that he is a person unto himself. Our faculty members are aware of the importance of a good self-concept, for which we are grateful. Thank you, teach!

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE PTA at Rex Reeves in Canyon. This new unit has garnered itself a Membership Award. Such award will be presented at the state convention in Austin this week. This energetic and enthusiastic unit is proving itself worthy of all recognition. Great going, y'all — keep up the good work!

GENE HOWE'S PTA president, Ernestine Harp, spent the Saturday of Nov. 3 at West Texas State University. What for? A seminar co-sponsored by the District 8 PTA, the university and the American Lung Association. Its purpose was to train selected students in ways to combat the smoking problem in their own schools and communities. Why people smoke, health consequences of smoking, and smoking cessation activities were covered. Now, Ernestine does not smoke, nor is she a student; but, she represents our school and the PTA with style.

ATTENDEES AT AMARILLO Area Council were either treated to, or threatened with, (you pick) a condensed version of the smoking seminar the following Monday. Luther Lawless, Ernestine and Troyce Mulherin represented Gene Howe at this monthly meeting of the council.

SURE WAS NICE to have the school board visit at our school last week. No names to be mentioned here, but a couple of the gentlemen found themselves being tested regarding their reading abilities. (No grades will be mentioned, either.) The board was introduced to the reading program at Gene Howe from kindergarten through the sixth grade levels. Such phrases as decoding skills, comprehensive skills, vocabulary skills; appraising the information and the quality of the information; developing enthusiasm and interest; identifying story elements; literal meanings and interpretative evaluative meanings all served to prove one point. That point is: We got a great program. We also have interested, dedicated teachers. (The teachers didn't say they were interested and dedicated — it somehow just came across during their presentations.)

ERNESTINE HARP, GWYN Sellers, Raydell Palmer, Jackie Mayfield and Troyce Mulherin attended the meeting (upon invite), being representatives of the PTA. Linda Thomas had an important birthday party at home and could not come. Linda Thomas had an important part on the program, though. She furnished some delicious homemade cookies for refreshment time.

TO THE SCHOOL board members: Come visit us again!

TODAY IS THE day for the Northwest Texas Hospital Auxiliary Annual Bake Sale and Gift Show. Nine to five at the Seventh Street lobby of the hospital. Go, buy, enjoy. 'Tis the season to forget about calories for a while.

"THROUGH THE YEARS" was the theme of the program presented by Mrs. Stanton Field for the November meeting of the Amarillo Art League. The meeting was held at Mrs. Julia Spurlock's lovely home; and, Mrs. John Merchant and Mrs. Emmett Davis served as hostesses. Babe Miller serves as president of the Art League. Lots of reminiscing accompanied the program introduction of, "Every member grows lovlier because your tender charm and kindness draws inspiration from above and lends its beauty to the love of friends we have shared Through the Years." Nice thought.

TONIGHT, AT 7:30 o'clock, Dr. Garry Nall of the Department of History of West Texas State University will present a talk on, "Barbed Wire and Windmills: The farmer comes to the Panhandle Plains." It's at the Amarillo Public Library, third floor, no charge.

GUY BUFKIN, HIS dad, Jim, his brother Gene, and H. D. Dyson have returned from a fruitful hunting trip in the wilds of New Mexico. The group managed to claim three deer. Guy's mom stayed here with the Bufkin youngsters and got a taste of that Gene Howe chili.

DUANE HARP AND his lovely wife, Anita, and his equally lovely sister, Diane Harp, spent the weekend at Texas A&M. The Harps took in the win over SMU, and visited with friends. Anita's dad, Jimmy White, has a new camper, and our threesome put it through its paces. Not all fun and games, though. They took along the ol' books and did some studying on the way up and back. Tell me about the younger generation!

CHARLES PURCELL, ELECTION judge, Ernestine Harp, assistant election judge, and yours truly, got to say howdy to 113 voters at Gene Howe. At the end of the long day (seven to seven for the polls) Precinct Nine found itself first in line for computer duty.

BASKETBALL COACHES FOR Gene Howe have been elected. Luther Lawless and Jean Ritchie each have a sixth grade team. O'Neal Call and Glenna Schmidt get the fifth graders. Loydell Tennison will guide the fourth grade team to victory; and, Glenna will do likewise with our third grade team. Dribble. Dribble. Seriously, now — you teams latch onto a mom or dad to serve as reporter and ask such reporter to pretty please, beautiful, call in game results. Good luck, players.

HAPPIES TO CARL Johnson, who celebrated his day on the 6th; and to Jeff Cates as of the 8th. Dan Whipple chose the 10th on which to birthday. Many more, gentlemen!

KEEP THOSE CAMPBELL soup labels coming in. And, a note to Mrs. Penrod: the Starving Artist Show prevented a visit last weekend. Next weekend is reserved for the Arts in Action Show at the Civic Center. So, see you the following weekend. O.K.? Will call, first.

SPEAKING OF CALLING, do it! Call 352-6053, with your news items.

About 60 persons came to the community center Saturday morning for the 51st annual Veterans Day breakfast sponsored by the local American Legion post. Eggs, bacon and all the trimmings were served up by the Legion cooks for active duty military personnel and their families and numerous local veterans.

Umbarger Folk Feed Sausage To Thousands

By ANN MELIN

About 3800 people from all over the Panhandle and as far away as Iowa turned out Sunday for the 21st annual Umbarger Sausage Festival.

And there was food aplenty to go around. The hearty helped themselves to seconds and thirds to the famous sausage that's a once-every-year treat for Panhandle residents and a once-in-a-lifetime experience for some folks who were lucky enough to "just be passing through" Umbarger on the day of the big fest.

Late in the afternoon, it looked like the supply of homemade bread was running dangerously low, but a last-minute dash to family pantries by several Umbarger women yielded an emergency supply of fresh loaves.

Although everyone came away from the giant feed well-pleased, perhaps no one derived as much satisfaction from the festival as the townfolk who labored in the hot kitchens or in the serving lines.

How much money did they make on the project? As of newstime, festival chairman R.D. Friemel hadn't gotten the exact count yet. But the profits on the festival weren't what townfolks were talking about when they gathered in the aftermath of the festival Monday for a massive clean-up job at St. Mary's Parish Hall.

Amid stacks and stacks of just-washed dishes, the festival workers finally sat down at mid-morning for a brief respite before they manned the mops. Over coffee and leftover sausage and kraut, residents rehashed Sunday's events and soon found themselves drifting into talk of next year's festival.

The parish will conduct a vote in January over whether or not another festival will be held next November. But there was no question as to how those who helped with this year's festival were going to cast their vote.

"Young folks who've moved away and started families of their own always like to come home and help out with the festival. 'It just makes you feel like you're really home,' they all say," according to Mrs. Sylvester Batenhorst, one of the head cooks for the festival.

Mrs. Batenhorst, who made only rare venturings-forth from the steaming kitchen during the festival, was celebrating her 32nd wedding anniversary on Sunday. "It was the best way to spend the day I can think of," she said.

"For the past 21 years I've pitched in with the festival. Oh, there were some years I couldn't make it — like when I was having a baby or something — but those times I'd make my bread and things at home and send it along with my husband and all the children that were old enough to help out with the dinner," she said.

Mrs. Batenhorst described her family's preparation for the fest, and with only slight differentiation, it could have been the same story with most of the other Umbarger residents.

The couple attended mass on Saturday evening, as did the other workers who received special permission to attend church services the day before the festival.

Awakening in the wee hours of the morning Sunday, the Batenhorsts' preoccupations soon turned to the weather conditions for the day. But at 4 a.m., it was just too soon to tell.

By 11 a.m., however, the early morning chill had given way to clear blue skies and fine sunny weather. The brilliant Panhandle day — one of the best Nature has to offer — was a godsend for those waiting in a line that at the height of the afternoon would form a human thread a full block long, extending from the parish hall down to the flagpole outside the old schoolhouse.

Although the length of the waiting line may have rivalled Macy's of New York at the apex of the Christmas rush season, there was none of the big city impatience and acrimony discernible among the waiting.

Everybody seemed to know everybody else, and if they didn't — well, then, introductions were in order.

It wasn't hard to strike up a conversation with a fellow waiter. The weather, the length of the line, and what was waiting at the end of it were prime topics of conversation. "Nice enough day fer ya?" was a common opener.

When a couple drove up to the front of the hall in his and hers Model A Fords, the arrival made for discussion up and down the line, ranging from shoptalk on the dependability of the antique vehicle to recollections of halcyon days when it cruised down the roads of America at speeds even slower than the one President Nixon was calling on countrymen to decelerate to.

By the time some folks got the beginning of the chow line, they'd struck up friendships or renewed old ones.

The Umbarger women dishing out the victuals did so with admirable speed and knowing expertise. But they weren't so robot-like in their motions that they couldn't look up at the plate-holder and ask him just how far he'd come for his Sunday dinner.

And before a person was even aware he'd gone through the line, he was looking down at a plate brimming full of steaming sausage and kraut, mashed potatoes and gravy, green beans and applesauce.

So well-timed was the serving, that no sooner had a fellow downed his last juicy bit of sausage when a young waiter approached with a bowlful of the same thing, asking if the diner would care for seconds, thirds or even fourths of the famous entree.

Although everybody sitting at the tables seemed to be having a bang-up good time, Mrs. Batenhorst insisted the real spirit of the festival was to be found in the kitchen, where workers were toiling in an atmosphere of "warm good cheer and togetherness.

"I call it susamlichkeit," said the longtime resident of the small German community. "An atmosphere of friendliness and joy, with everybody working together and having a wonderful time."

Earlier, some folks were saying that the German word "gemultlichkeit" (meaning easy-going friendliness) seemed to capture the spirit of the festival. But Mrs. Batenhorst begged to differ. While that word might tend to define the feeling of the festival-goer, she said, the feeling of the worker who's trying to dish-up meals for thousands couldn't be defined as 'easy-going.'"

"Susamlichkeit," she insisted. And since no down-pat English definition was to be had for either German word, there couldn't be much more argument on the subject.

But all residents seemed to be in agreement about one thing. The festival is "just the best thing we've got to keep our community alive and together," was the way one Umbarger dweller phrased it.

The best evidence that the festival spins a kind of magic for townfolk could be discerned at the big post-dinner dance in the Parish Hall on Sunday evening.

Nary a hint of a generation gap between youngers and elders could be distinguished at the wingding. Hoary gray heads bobbed on the dance floor, along with long-haired ones attached to bejeaned adolescent boys. Music was by Tiny Lynn and his band, and it had just the right mixture of olden goldies and pop favorites to keep everybody and everybody's parents and grandparents happy.

"And that's what I call communication," sighed Mrs. Batenhorst.

"So why in the heck do all of our people have their own family reunions during the year when we all know that the Festival is just like one big reunion for all of us?" asked Charles J. Beckman, another veteran of every sausage festival that's been.

And to all those folks who heard Beckman's query, it seemed like a fair question.

Mrs. Gilbert Irlbeck, left, representing the University Study Club presented a donation to Canyon Girl Scouts representative Mrs. David Davidchik on behalf of the study club. The Canyon Girl Scouts are one of the University Study Club's annual projects.

Kendrick Sees Exciting Year For CHS Basketball

Although his Canyon Eagle basketballers have been picked to win the district this year by at least one area magazine, Coach B. B. Kendrick is cautious in assessing the year's hopes.

Kendrick, who sees four starters return to his team, nevertheless says he has some high expectations for the team.

After a .500 season last winter, with a team which suffered severely from injuries, Kendrick opens a season Friday night against Hereford with a team which begins with a key player injured.

Bob Counseller, much-honored tackle in football, was injured in the next-to-the-last football game and will be out for a while in basketball.

But, returning to the starting squad for Kendrick on the healthy side will be Wayne Pitt, picked by the same magazine as a pre-season all-Panhandle player, Andy Crager and Ed Lair.

Those four will couple with some of last year's junior varsity standouts to form a nucleus of a club which Kendrick hopes to see in Austin next year.

The Eagles began practice in mid-October and although they hit a slump after about two weeks, they are ready to go into season play Friday night, Kendrick says.

He says they are ready to win.

Kendrick has some depth this year with junior varsity standouts coming up the ranks. He sees the varsity squad as consisting of Lynn Wright, a probable starter, Denny Bryan, Marty Wydick, David Melton, Rick Lewis, Ken Cooper, a sophomore, Mark Guy and Dennis Collier.

The Eagles may by hampered initially by a certain slowness due to the return to the squad late in the practice season of football players. But, once they get in shape, the Eagles should be at full strength.

This year's district action pits the Eagles against Perryton, Dumas, Muleshoe and Levelland. Last season, the Eagles split four and four.

This year they're picked to win the district crown.

"Although the coaches have picked us to win the district, I'd realistically have to go with Levelland," Kendrick said. "They were 30-1 last year and have two starters back, both of them 6-5."

Several of the district teams will out-size the Eagles, but Kendrick believes the Eagle style of continuous press can have favorable effect even on taller teams.

If Counseller is able to play this season, the Eagles will have better than average size themselves.

Kendrick sees an exciting season unfolding.

"We have good speed and good starters," he said. "We'll be able to score some points. We'll press the whole time. We'll have a real exciting team to watch."

Coupled with the excitement of the Eagles, the fans can expect some exciting opponents as well, opponents like Tascosa High, Lubbock High, Pampa and Palo Duro.

Kendrick said he is moving more and more into a strictly AAAA schedule, anticipating continued growth of Canyon High and its eventual move into the AAAA bracket.

For example, next season he's scheduled 10 AAAA opponents.

CHS Choir Raises Funds For TMEA Trip

Although the Canyon High School Choir's Houston tour is still three months away, choral director Tom Jennings says the members have all but raised the money for the trip, doing everything from selling toothbrushes to cleaning up Frank Kimbrough Stadium after football games.

The ensemble was selected to perform before music teachers from all over the state at the Texas Music Educator's Association convention slated Feb. 7-9.

A minimum of $2,000 was needed to make the Houston trip, and this week Jennings said the choir has raised about $3,150 through diverse projects.

Out of that total, the choir raised about $300 from rounding up pop bottles and collecting deposits. About $1100 was made from sales of toothbrushes, $1000 for Halloween candy sales and $250 for janitorial services at Kimbrough Stadium. In addition, about $500 was received in donations, Jennings said.

The choir performed part of the repertoire for their Houston performance in an opening fall concert last week. The other portion of the TMEA program will be presented at a Christmas concert slated Dec. 17 in the school auditorium.

T-Anchor 4-H Club Has Trailride Sun.

The T-Anchor 4-H Club met Sunday afternoon in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park for a trail ride. Following a horseback ride up the Sunday Canyon area and around the lighthouse formation, the group had supper.

The next trail ride planned by the group will be Nov. 18.

Umbarger News

By REBA RAEF

GREETINGS, FROM UMBARGER. Well, our twenty-first annual German Sausage Festival is now history and thanks be to God, didn't we have a beautiful day for our Festival? We sold out of everything in the country store and bazaar and could have sold much more. We saw friends from so many places and so many of the young people who grew up in Umbarger and are now married and live elsewhere, came home for the festivities this year. It was surely good to see all of them. The winners on the drawing were Jerry Warwick of Canyon, the $175 cash; C.P. True of Clovis, a quarter of beef; Conrad Westhoff of Umbarger, a quarter of beef; Carl Hartman of Umbarger, the $100 gift certificate; Sylvester Batenhorst of Umbarger, the electric yard light; Mrs. C.J. Beckman from Umbarger, two tires; Leander Reinart of Hereford, twenty-five pounds of German sausage; R.E. Friemel of Umbarger, 100 lbs. of lawn fertilizer; Anthony Irlbeck of Hereford, ten pounds of German sausage; Max Hoffman, Jr. of Amarillo, the wall clock and Mrs. Leonard Batenhorst of Umbarger, a battery.

IN THE BAZAAR drawing, the first prize, a baby quilt, went to Mutt Myers of Canyon; the second prize, another baby quilt, went to Mrs. Kenneth Artho of Hereford and third prize, a stuffed calico dog, went to Mrs. Elmer Reinart of Hereford. All in all, it was a very gratifying day to all who were involved and Father Schafle would like to say a hearty "thanks" to all who helped in any way.

ALL UMBARGER 4-H club members are asked to bring 75 cents and a hammer to the next meeting, to be held Nov. 19 at 7:30 p.m. in the Columbus Club Hall. There will be a man from American Handicratts, in Amarillo, who will help members with their Christmas presents. So, don't forget the meeting OR your money and hammer, as time is getting short.

AT THE 4-H awards night, held at the Community building in Canyon recently, pins were awarded to Floyd Hartman and Linda Hartman, in agriculture; Marianne Wieck and Anita Adams, in clothing; Brenda Batenhorst and Debra Hartman, in Entomology; Judy Wilhelm in foods; Gerald and Edwin Wilhelm in swine; Donna Hartman in leadership; Janet Wilhelm in Dress Revue and Duane Hartman in beef. Our congratulations to all of you.

MRS. KATHERINE LARSEN, from Lenexa, Kan. is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Vincent J. Meyer and family. She came in time for the Festival and will visit a few more days before returning home. Mildred Wieck and children spent a recent weekend visiting her parents the V.J. Meyers.

THIS COMING SUNDAY, November 18, is the day of Retreat for the C.Y.O. members. Father Ken Keller, of St. Mary's parish in Amarillo will conduct the retreat.

AT THE NOVEMBER meeting of St. Mary's Altar Society and Christian Mothers held November 6, the members voted to change the meeting time to 7:30 p.m. instead of 8:00 p.m., until the time changes again in April. Reports of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women's Convention, held Oct. 30 and 31 in Amarillo, were given by Lillian Friemel, Mary Brockman, Frances Gerber and Reba Raef. Father Schafle told the members of his experiences teaching deaf children at the Wolfin School in Amarillo, also of the new methods of teaching the deaf. He also stressed the need for help in this field in this area. Members decided to draw names for Prayer Friends at the Christmas party, to be held Dec. 4. This will be on a voluntary basis and no gifts will be exchanged, only cards and prayers. The religious goods store in the church basement has a good supply of gifts and Christmas cards, as well as other kinds of cards for sale. The Altar Society will also have Christmas cards in our store, so come by and select yours early.

DON'T FORGET THE display of Christmas wrapping paper and bow maker, etc., that the Canyon Band Parents have in our store. If you're in the market for these items, we'll be glad to take your order and see that it gets to the proper people.

THE F.F.A. QUIZ team, composed of Janet Snyder, Darrell Glenn, Gary Hinders and Steve Friemel, won fourth place in the area contest in Plainview last Saturday. The Panhandle area was represented by 8 districts, so we think our Canyon team did real well. Congratulations to Steve and the other team members.

IN OUR NEWS last week, we left out the name of Vicki Gerber, as a choir member from Umbarger. Our apology, Vicki.

HENRY BRACHT IS recuperating at his home following surgery last week in Neblett Memorial Hospital. We wish you a speedy recovery, Henry.

THAT'S ABOUT ALL for this time, but if you have news for me, give me a call.

Festival A Success

WT Caravan Due In Borger, Pampa

The West Texas State University Caravan will be in Pampa and Borger today to present a glimpse of college life to area high school students and their parents.

The caravan, an informal type of program of slide presentations, displays and casual conversation with WTSU students and faculty, will be at Pampa High School at 3:45 p.m. and at Borger High School at 7:30 p.m.

Students and their parents from Fritch, Phillips, Sanford and Stinnett have also been invited to the Borger program.

The Pampa and Borger stops will be the second and third of the current school year. Last month it visited Hereford.

WTSU students, faculty and staff will be on hand to answer questions about college life and talk about what West Texas State has to offer.

A number of new academic and degree programs have been started at West Texas State in the past several years, including nursing, music therapy, social work, criminal justice administration, some areas of education, and many others.

"The purpose of the caravan is to acquaint the young people and their parents with what the university has to offer," says Dr. Jack Bullock, mathematics professor and chairman of the Faculty Council.

"There will be representatives from each of the five colleges and schools as well as from student life, financial aid, scholarships and other areas of the university," he says.

Kids Inc. Team Assignments To Be Made

A record number of boys and girls have already signed up for Kids, Inc., basketball this season and round-up man Max Brummett says the organization will be taking additional players Saturday, when teams will be formed at the West Texas State University Activities Center.

Last week, 130 players — about 70 boys and approximately 60 girls — were signed up for this year's intramural basketball action.

Kids, Inc., officials estimated that about 17 teams will be formed this year. Registrants are asked to come to the AC at 8 a.m. Saturday for team assignments.

Those who did not sign up last week may do so Saturday, Brummett said. Any grade-schooler between the ages of nine and 12 is eligible to join the teams. Registrants are asked to bring $5 to cover referee fees, jerseys and athletic equipment.

The first practice session is slated at 5 p.m. in the Old Administration gymnasium. Since only one gym is available for work-outs, Brummett said teams will be practicing each week on a scheduled basis. All games will be conducted in the Activities Center gym, he added.

Brummett said Kids, Inc., officials are hoping to get enough practice in before a Christmas tournament with Amarillo Kids, Inc., ball clubs slated during the Christmas holidays in the WTSU Activities Center.

The regular season is scheduled to begin January 5, Brummett said.

Boxing Team Due Tourney

Zeke Clement, local boxing coach, said boys interested in the city boxing program are welcome to come to the club at 801 23rd Street for workouts which begin at 4 p.m. daily.

Gateway Torches To Be Doused As Symbol of Crisis Compliance

During homecoming ceremonies on Oct. 13, 1966, two natural gas torches were ignited to mark the west entrance to West Texas State University.

On Nov. 20, 1973, seven years, one month, and one week later, the torches will be extinguished.

The Board of Directors of West Texas Ex-Students, Inc., the organization which donated the formal gateway to the campus, has voted to extinguish the flames in cooperation with the present effort to conserve energy resources. The flames will be extinguished at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday, to be re-ignited only to commemorate special events.

The torches are part of an entranceway designed to identify the West Texas State University campus to travelers on busy U.S. 87 through Canyon. Frank Barrett of Hereford was president of the former students association when the fund drive to build the entranceway was begun in May of 1964.

Wayne Thomas of Hereford, the Ex-Students' president in 1966, signed the construction contract with Page and Wirtz Construction Co. of Amarillo on March 15 of that year. Major donors to the $8,963.00 project were 21 area banks, the public service companies, three campus organizations, and Shamrock Oil & Gas Corporation.

Thomas turned the first spade of earth shortly after the contract was signed. Dr. James P. Cornette, then president of WTSU, represented the administration and the regents at the groundbreaking ceremonies, with Bruce Bishop of Amarillo representing the student body. Dr. Jack Walker, now chairman of the WTSU Speech Department, served as master of ceremonies for the groundbreaking.

Wayne Rankin of Plainview, current president of West Texas Ex-Students, Inc., said the decision to extinguish the traditional flames was difficult for the board to make.

"However," Rankin said, "in the interest of conserving natural gas for more important uses, we are going to turn them off. Whenever a special event concerning WT or its former students occurs, the torches can be turned on for an appropriate length of time and then turned off again. This decision of the Board will be in effect until the energy crisis has ended.

An important message from your Texas Panhandle Ford dealers.

5 QUESTIONS TO ASK THE MAN WHO'S TRYING TO SELL YOU A '74 MODEL CAR.

If you're about to invest in a new car, the gentlemen at your Texas Panhandle Ford dealers believe you ought to have straight answers to some pretty basic questions—about the car you're looking at, and about the dealer you're talking to.

1 How do I know this is the right car for me? The right engine, options?
The gentlemen in sales at your Texas Panhandle Ford dealers know the cars they sell, backward and forward. Once they have some idea of how you use a car, they'll be more than happy to make suggestions about size, body style, engine and options. The choice is yours, of course. The point is, we want to see you in the right Ford, not just any Ford.

2 How about service after the sale?
This question catches a lot of salesmen off guard; because all too many are interested only in moving cars. But not the gentlemen at Ford. We know you're vitally interested in our ability to service your car. So here, you'll find total car care service: the tools and equipment, plus a shop staff with the know-how and the willingness to help keep your Ford rolling smoothly for as long as you own it.

3 What are the full terms of the warranty on this car?
At your Texas Panhandle Ford dealers, you'll get more than just broad generalities. We'll hand you a copy of the warranty, give you time to read it, then give you straight answers to any questions you might have about it.

4 How can you help me with financing?
Just a few quick questions, a reference or two, and chances are we can arrange for the money you need in a matter of minutes—and at the best possible rates available.

5 When will the car be ready for delivery? And will it be ready?
We'll give you a realistic delivery date, and do all we can to make it. More important, when you do take delivery, the car is going to be just the way you want it. Because we'll spend the time and effort it takes cleaning and polishing, tuning and adjusting—to deliver a car you'll be proud of. A car we'll be proud of.

Farmers Should Eye Taxes

Record high agricultural production coupled with limited opportunities this fall could combine to put a tax bite on Randall County farmers, warns County Agent John Brazzil.

Brazzil advised area farmers to call on competent tax experts within the next few weeks or at least before the year's end.

"Income from the sale of crops and livestock has reached a new high this year and good tax management principles can well prevent or soften the blow when income tax reporting time arrives," he said.

Brazzil said some opportunities for re-investing income from this year's business may be limited.

"Producers who carried a large inventory of stocker cattle at the beginning of this year may not be able to re-invest in stocker cattle due to a shortage of wheat pasture," he said. "Some farm capital items such as tractors and heavy machinery are in short supply and may not be available to purchase during this business year."

Brazzil advises that accurate and up-to-date farm records be taken when farmers visit a tax accountant.

"Many opportunities for easing the tax burden do exist if plans are made now," he said. "Some sales may be delayed until the beginning of a new business year. Some purchases of needed supplies and equipment for production next year may be made now, and techniques such as income averaging are legal methods of easing the tax bite."

University of California Geology Prof Scheduled For Two Lectures At WT

Dr. George Tunell, professor emeritus of geology at the University of California at Santa Barbara, will give two public lectures Friday at West Texas State University.

His lectures will be at 4 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. in room 101 of University Complex South. The afternoon talk will be on supergene enrichment of copper porphyry deposits.

Dr. Frank Daugherty, coordinator of earth science research at WTSU, said the evening lecture will be on the history and development of the famous Comstock Lode in Nevada and will not be of a technical nature.

"Dr. Tunell is one of the leading authorities on geochemistry and mineralogy of mercury and antimony ores and is well known for his research and publications on atomic thermodynamics and heterogeneous equilibria," Daugherty said.

The noted geologist and mineralogist is a past president of the Mineralogical Society and a past vice president of the Geological Society of America.

He and Daugherty have co-authored a paper on a mercury mineral discovered by Tunell and heretofore unidentified.

Frost was employed with an oil company and had been a resident of Ada for 10 years.

Happy Jaycee-Ettes Annual Tasting Tea Friday

By MARY NEAL HENRY

THE WAYSIDE THANKSGIVING Dinner is tonight, November 15th, at six thirty o'clock in the Community Building. Bring your basket supper. The turkey and dressing will be furnished. Also bring your dominoes.

J. J. LANE can serve you hot sandwiches now at Wayside. He even has choices — about half dozen. We tried out two kinds the other evening. Joyce is a good cook. Or you can still make your own. Your choice.

HAPPY JAYCEE-ETTES ANNUAL Tasting Tea is tomorrow, November 16, from three to five o'clock. Don't miss it. The tasting tea will be in the home of Mrs. John Butler on Northern Avenue. Also on the home tour, the baked sale will be in the home of Mrs. A.J. McCarley. Opal lives just slightly farther east on Northern Avenue. (And if you come on out eleven miles east on Northern Avenue, you'll be at my house. But not that day, I'll be at the tasting tea). There will be door prizes. You don't have to be present to win. If you buy a ticket and are unable to attend, simply write your name on the back of it and send it to the tasting tea. If your name is drawn those Happy Jaycee-Ettes will see that you get your prize. They have lots of good items for tasting and will give you a recipe of all those goodies just for buying a baked item. And you get to see two of the most beautiful homes in Happy, too.

FRIDAY EVENING IS also the last football game of the season. We now have a 4-5 record and we plan to make that 5-5. There will be a party honoring the football boys and all high school is invited to the Jaycee Hall after the football game. I know they are going to eat, because I am supposed to take sandwiches. That should draw all you students.

THELLA MORRIS WHITE'S husband, Haskel White, is hospitalized in Denton after a heart attack. Thella is the oldest sister of Helene McFarland. Helene has been in Denton with them.

GLENDA AND JOE Bill Dempsey and their baby boy have moved back to Happy and are living in the O.N. Rahlfs rent house. Joe Bill is employed at Harman-Toles Elevator.

SHAWNA HEIL WAS that seventh member of the Lay Witness team at Tahoka. My apologies, Shawna. Connie Hand gave a report on the mission on Sunday morning.

JAYNE WEEKS AND LaNelle Todd sang a duet Sunday morning. Both of them just seem to open their mouths and let the melody roll out effortlessly. They sing beautifully!

WILLIE BUTLER WILL give a book review, "Prayer Changes Things," next Sunday evening at five o'clock at the First Baptist Church in Happy.

JEFF SIMS WAS eight-years-old Monday. Nell Sims (his mom) and a friend, Judy Thompson, gave him a birthday party at his grandmother's (Mrs. Corrie Bell) home in Happy Monday afternoon. The birthday cake was a football field complete with players and everything. It was served with ice cream and punch after a series of games were played, to the honoree, Jeff, Rowdy Bryan, Chad Boman, Kelly Foster, Darren Johnson, Jerry Sims, Jay Sims, Kevin Tucek, Roy Dee Thompson, Rickey Shaw, Joel Freeman, Jo Beth Thompson and LaRae Sims.

HAPPY CHAPTER #562, Order of the Eastern Star, will have their annual Thanksgiving banquet on Tuesday, November 20th. This is the evening that they honor their husbands and all Masons and their wives. We have an exceptionally good program this year. You won't want to miss it!

WEDNESDAY WAS THE Happy CowBelle Installation here in Canyon. It was my happy privilege to install them. I'll tell you about it next week.

HAPPY 4-H MET on Monday evening at the Happy Jaycee Hall. Othella McGehee presented the program on parliamentary procedure. Nancy Woods and Pearl Perez gave a mini-demonstration on safety. Reports of various committees were also given. Girls signed up for foods and for judging. Tim Moudy and Marta Kay Donnell served refreshments to about forty persons.

THE NEXT 4-H meeting will be a Christmas party on December 8th.

SKIP SIMONS PRESENTED the year pins and certificates and project pins to those who were unable to attend the 4-H Achievement Banquet.

THE GRAND CROSS of Color will hold their Mystic Banquet this Saturday evening at six o'clock in the Masonic Hall in Happy.

THIS IS THE week of the Food and Fiber Fair or Appreciation week. The PEP meeting will also be in Canyon on Friday. Governor Dolph Briscoe is expected to be there. Busy week!

I WONDER WHERE the few consumers are that started the beef boycott. What will those women do about the hike in the gasoline prices? Buy it and burn it? Or refuse and stay home! Somehow I just can't picture them staying at home and keeping their mouths shut.

See ya!

Dr. Brent Lynch, a professor of government at West Texas State University, was sworn as a licensed attorney in Texas during brief ceremonies Friday by County Judge Woody Pond. Lynch, who holds law and doctorate degrees from the University of Utah, says he will not practice law in the state. He is coordinator of a criminal justice course of instruction at the university. Lynch served twice in the office of the attorney general in Utah and was a practicing attorney in that state.

PTA Takes State Award

The Rex Reeves PTA, after twelve years of nonexistence, has managed to cop the award for the most new members in the entire state of Texas. Superintendent of schools, Jerry Jacobs, has offered to accept the award on behalf of the PTA at the State Convention in Austin this week. The PTA has been organized less than a year.

At the Monday night meeting in the All-Purpose Room of Rex Reeves, the kindergarten students performed for admiring parents and PTA members. Mrs. Cortez Dowlen arranged the music, accompanied, and directed the students in the program. Ann Carlisle, president, said, "I noticed that one father was so proud that he was crying a little. Mrs. Dowlen did a beautiful job with the kids."

Mrs. Hazel Strickland, director for special services for the Canyon School District, presented the program on the special services offered in Canyon schools.

A point made by Mrs. Strickland was that special services are for exceptional children as well as handicapped and children with other problems. "Children are different in sex, motivation, maturity, learning styles and problems."

For those students that would have to be out of school for at least four weeks, there is a program designed to help them called Home Bound Teachers.

Other areas covered by the special programs are speech, developmental class, language and learning disabilities and special reading, for those with problems in reading.

The Resources Room helps them learn good habits, and the Diagnostic Room allows aides to study a child's style of learning to better help them. A vocational program carries the special services program through the high school level.

A child can get into the special services program by being referred by a doctor, parent, teacher, or any school personnel.

All special services teachers have specialized training in this area, and try to work from the child rather than force them into a mold.

Rev. David Melber, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, gave the invocation.

The Rex Reeves librarian has a problem that the PTA is striving to solve. Volunteers are needed to fill the space left by the library assistant. "If they don't get some help, they will be in real trouble at Rex Reeves," said Mrs. Carlisle. If enough people volunteer, it would mean giving up one or two afternoons a month to help keep the library going at the school. One need not be a member of the PTA to volunteer, all interested parties are welcome, and may volunteer by calling Mrs. Carlisle at 655-9479.

Volunteers are also needed for the kindergarten. The work they would be involved in would deal with putting together educational packets, and either cutting out or sewing educational aids for the kindergarten. "All we need is some people who can handle a pair of scissors, and do simple sewing. I can handle scissors, but maybe some others can help me with that and the sewing," said Mrs. Carlisle. To volunteer for the kindergarten a call to Mrs. Glenn Tucek at 655-7894, will do the trick.

The Rex Reeves sweatshirts that were ordered in large numbers will be coming in soon. Anthony's has volunteered to be a distribution center for these. Notice will be given when the shirts arrive.

Census Survey To Eye Jobless

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census will interview a number of households in this area next week to obtain information on employment here.

The bureau is part of the U.S. Department of Commerce's Social and Economic Statistics Administration.

Percy R. Millard, Director of the Bureau's Data Collection Center in Dallas, in making the announcement, said the households are among 50,000 across the country that have been scientifically selected to represent a cross section of the American people.

The survey, which the bureau conducts each month for the U.S. Department of Labor, provides a continuing measure of employment and unemployment for the Nation. For example, overall employment rose sharply in September, while unemployment remained unchanged. Total employment increased by 700,000 to a seasonally adjusted level of 85.1 million, the first monthly increase since June. The unemployment rate was 4.8 per cent, essentially the same as in the preceding three months but well below the 5.5 per cent level of September a year ago.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept confidential by law and results are used only to compile statistical totals.

For those thinking ahead for Christmas, cornhusk dolls make interesting collector's items and are inexpensive and relatively easy to make. So says Mrs. Loyce Sullivan, vocational education teacher. The dolls were made as a project of her class and will be among items for sale at the CJHS Christmas store, scheduled to open in December. Pictured above are dollmakers Carolyn Ruiz (left) and Karen Hensley, both members of Mrs. Sullivan's class.

Sociology And Social Work Club Gets Kids Inc. Passes

All the Canyon youngsters that participated in the Canyon Kids Inc. programs this fall will be attending the WTSU football game Saturday night as guests of the WT Athletic Dept. through the efforts of the Sociology and Social Work Club at the university.

The 185 tickets were donated as an extra incentive bonus for the local children who took part in Kids Inc. and the volunteer coaches, to show appreciation for Canyon Kids Inc. They will be seated in a special section and will be recognized at halftime.

Canyon Kids Inc. program and a tutoring service for Canyon schools are two of the major projects that the Sociology and Social Work have chosen to concentrate on.

The club is made up of West Texas State University students involved with social work in their education. Dr. Ross Staton, head of the Social Service Division of the Sociology Dept. at WT, is sponsor for the club. Officers are Miss T.J. Johnson, president; Stanley Mong, vice-president; Randy Rangel, treasurer; Miss Ginger Rosas, secretary; and Mrs. Hazel Hawthorne, promotion and publicity chairman. The aim of the club is to provide volunteer help to the community in worthwhile projects in the field of community relations and to aid students in the field of social service. Members vote on what projects they want the club to become involved with and according to Mrs. Hawthorne, "We felt that Canyon had a need for the services and we decided to concentrate our efforts in Canyon through Kids Inc. and the tutoring program." The club will be available for other projects throughout the year.

Underway at this time, is the coordinating program for tutoring services to be offered to Rex Reeves and Gene Howe Elementary students at no charge. The program will provide for volunteer student tutors to aid teachers with children having trouble with certain subjects. Totally private, the instruction will be on a volunteer, free of charge, basis.

Another benefit the club hopes to secure for the Kids Inc. program is tickets for West Texas State basketball games. They hope to have tickets for one team at a time to attend the games.

The West Texas State Soccer Team has extended an invitation through Stanley Mong, for all members of Kids Inc. to attend the soccer meet Saturday afternoon at the West Texas State intramural field area.

Texas Future Teachers Had District Convention At WT

During the third general session the Miss and Mr. F.T.A. finalists gave their talks on "Caring: Our Commitment to The Future." The winners were Jan Costello and Keith Grays, both of Tascosa High School. They were given $100 scholarships from the district and are eligible for state competition at the state convention to be held February 22 and 23 in Dallas. Workshop evaluations were also given during the third session and awards were presented by Mary Ann Sims.

Happy High School Bennie Purnell FTA Chapter won first in the yearbook competition. This was the first year for the yearbook competition to be held on the district level.

Entertainment was provided by the Chamber Choir from Dumas High School. Approximately 750 were registered for the day long convention.

Chamber Meeting

Members of the board of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce will meet at noon today at the Yum Yum Tree Restaurant to discuss election of new directors and set plans for the annual banquet.

Eight candidates will be nominated from the membership to be voted on for the board of directors. Discussion will also center on the outstanding citizen award presented each year by the chamber at its banquet.

Dr. Nall To Speak Today In Amarillo

The saga of the Panhandle farmer and his struggle for survival on the high plains will be the subject of a lecture by a West Texas State University history professor today at Mary E. Bivins Public Library in Amarillo.

Dr. Garry Nall, assistant professor of history at WTSU, will speak on the topic, "Barbed Wire and Windmills: The Farmer Comes to the Panhandle Plains."

The lecture, which is open to the public, is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. on the third floor of the library.

His talk will focus on the first settlers to the Panhandle and the agricultural problems they confronted. It will also encompass the introduction of the railroads to the region, federal land policies of the period and the contributions of the cattle ranches to the region's economy.

Dr. Nall has been a member of the WT history faculty since 1963. Last year, he completed his doctorate at the University of Oklahoma with a dissertation examining the agricultural development of the Texas Panhandle.

Dr. Nall holds bachelor's and master's degrees in history from the University of Texas.

Basketball Ticket Sales Hit High Gear For WTSU

West Texas State University's basketball season ticket campaign got into high gear Tuesday afternoon when a new "Knothole Club" was announced and a season and single game ticket location was set in Amarillo.

The "Knothole Gang" will allow youngsters between six and 14 years of age to purchase a T-shirt and a season pass for $4. The T-shirts each have a basketball and the words "Maroon Madness" on them.

Sears-Roebuck & Co. in Amarillo will be the only outlet in that city for season tickets. Single game tickets will also be sold there. On game days the single game tickets will be sold both at Sears-Roebuck and the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum.

A "Meet the Buffaloes" luncheon has been scheduled for 12 noon Friday in the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum. Any Buffalo fans are invited to attend that lunch free of charge. The lunch is sponsored by the newly-formed "Cager Club" and Glen Parkey is its president.

Each member of the Buffalo team will be introduced by new head coach Ron Ekker. Following the meal the Buffaloes will hold a practice session in the Civic Center. The practice session will be climaxed with a scrimmage session.

Any of the fans wishing to stay for any of the practice or scrimmage will be welcome.

Ekker's Buffaloes got off to a running start on their season with a 74-55 victory over the rugged Brazilian National Team last week in Canyon. The Brazilian team is on a tour of the United States, playing each of the Missouri Valley Conference teams.

Season ticket buyers will have several selections as to the plan they want.

A regular season ticket for the Buffaloes 15 home games is $30, or $2 per game. Purchased at the gate at regular prices, those tickets are $2.50 per game.

Persons buying season tickets will also have the right to renew those same seats for the following year and will be given the first option to buy better tickets as they come open.

A Missouri Valley Conference plan has also been installed. Persons may buy tickets for the six Missouri Valley Conference games. Those tickets will go on sale after the season starts Dec. 1 and they will be the remaining seats that were not sold as season tickets. The six MVC games will sell at the regular ticket prices of $15, or $2.50 per game, but will insure those fans of better tickets. No option to buy will go with the MVC plan.

Persons may also purchase a book of $5 tickets for $30, or $2 per ticket. They may select the game or games they wish to attend and use any or all of the tickets at one time. They will, however, take a chance on the seats they get.

The ticket books may be used for any game and a person buying the book may pick up tickets for any game at any time either at Sears or at the Buffalo ticket office in Canyon, or at a game.
